This summer, 76,000 fires burned in the Amazon rainforest(亞馬遜雨林) in Brazil(巴西). This is an increase(增加) of 80% from 2018. It's the Amazon's dry season, but the main cause(原因) of the fires is deforestation(森林砍伐). This means people cut down trees and set fires to clear them away. They can then use this land to grow crops or raise farm animals. Jair Bolsonaro, Brazil's president since January 2019, wants to improve Brazil's economy(經濟) through agriculture(農業). Because of this, there are now fewer laws protecting the rainforest.

These fires lead to climate change and are terrible for the environment(環境). The Amazon's trees and plants produce a large amount of oxygen(氧氣). The smoke and fire hurt many local animals and people. These fires will seriously damage our planet for years in the future.

- () 1. What is causing most of the fires in the forest in the Amazon this summer?
(A) The planet is getting warmer, so trees are burning. (B) Too much oxygen in the Amazon rainforest causes fire
(C) Bad guys are setting fire to crops and animals. (D) People are cutting down and burning too many trees.
- () 2. What is true about Brazil?
(A) There are fewer fires in the Amazon rainforest in 2019 than in 2018 .
(B) A great amount of Earth's oxygen is produced in Brazil.
(C) The growth of its economy(經濟) has increased 80% since 2018.
(D) The president will make more laws to protect the rainforest.
- () 3. What is NOT an effect(影響) of the fires?
(A) Brazil's economy is getting worse. (B) Many local animals are being hurt.
(C) The smoke from them hurts the people. (D) They are damaging our planet seriously.

Do you get tired easily? Maybe the way you live has something to do with that. Check the following list of actions to see if they are causing the problem.

1. Everything has to be perfect, and you're not happy when it's not. You put a lot of energy into reaching this goal, but sometimes it is over your abilities. In the end, the only thing you have to show for is time wasted .
2. Junk food is a big part of your diet. Unfortunately, junk food is unhealthy and makes your blood sugar higher. To bring that back down to a safe level, you need to change your diet and get more fresh fruits and vegetables.
3. Your desk needs to be tidied up. Get things in order by cleaning off your desktop, arrange your things neatly, and put things that you don't need in the drawers. Before leaving the office, tidy everything up for the next morning.
4. You always go to bed late on weekends. If you stay up late Saturday night and sleep on Sunday morning, you will have problems getting to sleep on Sunday night. What you need to do is to wake up at your usual hour and take a 20-minute nap in the afternoon if you have to.
5. You don't exercise when you feel tired. The best thing to do is to exercise three times a week for at least 30 minutes each time, no matter what. That will help your body run better.

How many of the actions above have you checked off? If you checked all, you really need to change the way you do things.

☞ cause 造成 perfect 完美的 goal 目標 ability 能力 unfortunately 不幸地 blood 血 level 等級 arrange 安排

(Below is the preface of Sabrina Weston's new book My Super Service Dog.)

When I came into this world, I was born with something nobody had ever seen before. The rare disease left me without the use of my legs. Also, I had attacks that made me lose control over my own body at times. Because of these things, it almost isn't possible for me to live a normal life, but that all changed when Riley came into my life.

Riley is my best friend, and she's also a yellow Labrador. Since she was a little puppy, she had been trained to be a guide dog for the blind, but that didn't work out in the end. Lucky for me, though, her trainer thought that she would make a good service dog because she was very gentle and could sense when something was wrong. It turns out that Riley did, and she is.

In the following pages are how I met her for the first time, how she became a part of my life, and all that she does for me with and without asking. All I can say is that someone up there was looking out for me when they put Riley and me together. For that, I will always be very grateful. I hope you have as much fun reading our story as I had putting it down on the paper.

Dear Green Connections,

I love Car Free Day, and I'd like to share how I celebrate it with you and your readers.

Car Free Day is a day that I take very seriously because it is very important not only for people but also for our planet. First, I must tell you that before I found out about this special day, I drove my car everywhere. Sadly, I even drove to places that were less than five minutes away on foot. I now know that was bad of me. However, all that has changed. On Car Free Day and all the other days of the year, I ride my bike to the places I need to go. At first, it was very difficult to get to places that were far from my house because I was out of shape and got tired really easily. Then, over time, I got stronger and could travel to spots that were miles away. Now, there isn't a day that I don't take my bike out somewhere nice in nature. Biking has truly helped me see the world in a whole new way. What's more, I can't imagine going back to the life that wasn't good for me or the environment.

All the best,
Derek

5.

My best friend is Chuan. We have known each other since we were in the university. Although we come from different families, we still have a lot in common. I like to listen to music, and he does, (14). Both of us like the same rock band, Mayday. We have been to their concerts four times. Another example is that I like to take a trip, and (15) does he. We have been to so many foreign countries by backpacking together. I don't eat meat, and (16) does he. We are both vegetarians. (素食者) I don't like to exercise, and he doesn't, (17). Because we have the same hobbies, we became good friends the first day we met. I think it is important to have at least one good, close friend in our life.
